VOL. XIII.--NO. 198. PORTLAND, OREGON: TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 23, 1873. PRICE--TEN CENTS.

EASTERN NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

The Great Panic--Offer of Commodore Vanderbilt.

NEW YORK, Sept 21.—The story of yesterday's panic fills from six to ten columns of each of the morning journals.

Commodore Vanderbilt made a proposition that if the President would authorize the Secretary of the Treasury to place $30,000,000 of reserve in the banks of the city, he, Vanderbilt, would add $10,000,000 more. President Grant replied that he was anxious to do all in his power to relieve the present financial embarrassment and to prevent further disasters, but that he must conform to the Constitution.

The Secretary's Scheme for Relief.

Mr Redick and others represented to President Grant and Secretary Richardson the necessity for immediate action, but they were informed that the Constitution could not be violated. It was agreed by the President and Secretary to instruct the Assistant Treasurer at New York to buy all Government bonds offered for sale to any amount. The savings banks hold many millions in Government bonds, and it is probable that they will sell them, and deposit the proceeds in National banks, which will give them relief.

Savings Banks Take Precautions Against a Run.

NEW YORK, Sept 21.—Officers of savings banks have taken prompt action to prevent an immediate run on their several institutions. A number of them met to-day and adopted a resolution that that portion of the rules governing savings institutions requiring notice to be given previous to payment be rigidly enforced.

Cause of the Failure of the Union Trust Company.

The suspension of the Union Trust Company is clearly due to slovenly and criminal management. Secretary Carlton, the receiver's statement, shows the company to be in a sound condition provided money can be realized upon its assets. A single call loan of $1,750,000 had been made to the Lake Shore Railroad. With this loan taken up the company can resume business at once.

LATER.—At midnight, a number of persons already in front of the building, hoping the company would open on Monday according to the promise made by the receiver. An announcement was made to-night that Com. Vanderbilt had advanced $2,000,000 to the Union Trust Company. If such proves to be the case, the company will doubtless resume business to-morrow.

Central Pacific Bonds Falling.

NEW YORK, Sept 21.—The Central Pacific first mortgage bonds sold on Friday at 80, and immediately afterward the highest price bid was 75. The quotation as given 98@99, was incorrect.

Eugene Kelly & Co gave notice yesterday that they are instructed by the First National Gold Bank, at San Francisco to pay all their drafts drawn on Jay Cooke & Co.

EVENING.—It is stated to-night that notwithstanding the action this afternoon of President Grant and Secretary Richardson, they will authorize to-morrow the placing of a portion of reserves necessary to prevent a crash.

A meeting of the directors of various banks is now being held to decide upon the advisability of compelling depositors to give sixty or thirty days notice, as their charters allow, and as agreed upon at an informal meeting yesterday.

At the Sub-Treasury.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—The following notice is posted in the U S Sub-Treasury: "Purchase of bonds to-day will include all the different series of 5-20s. Payments will be made in currency at the rate of 10.72 and accrued interest in coin." Already $50,000 worth have been purchased.

11 A. M.—The Sub-Treasury has bought one million in bonds. Great crowds are waiting to sell.

The Crisis Passed.

NEW YORK, Sept 22.—Notwithstanding the unreasonable run made to-day on Savings banks, the general tone of feeling in financial circles is improving. National banks generally appear in good condition and are confident of safety unless some new thunderbolt strikes. The panic has passed its crisis.

Condition and Attitude of Savings Banks.

NEW YORK, Sept 22—1 P. M.—The Seamen's Saving Bank has decided to pay on demand sums of $100 or under, but notice of 30 days must be given, as the charter allows, before larger sums than $100 will be paid. It is likely that all Savings banks will come to the same decision, although no official statement has been received from the up town banks on the east side, which is inhabited mainly by working people. There the run on Savings banks is greater than in any other part of the city.

Improvement in the Situation.

LATER—1 30 P M.—The clearing house statement shows that all banks have made their clearings satisfactorily, including the two previously reported as settling through the loan committee. The general feeling is decidedly better. There is considerable inquiry in a quiet way for stocks, persons being willing to pay greenbacks for dividend paying shares as the run on the savings banks has ceased. There is hardly an average amount of withdrawals taking place, and it is stated there is no falling off in deposits.

1 45 P M.—Only $200,000 worth of bonds were bought at the Sub-Treasury office since 12 o'clock. There is a considerable falling off in the number of sellers.

The Latest from New York.

NEW YORK, Sept 22.—The day has closed quiet, and it is believed the panic is over.

NEW YORK, Sept 22.—An official statement is made this morning that the Assistant Treasurer will continue to purchase five-twenty bonds in accordance with his notice of Saturday, paying for them in currency at average prices of sales on that day. Secretary Richardson said last night he did not see that he had any power to do more than buy bonds. All five-twenties offered will be bought without delay or rebate.

Affairs of the Union Trust Company.

The following notice is posted on the doors of the Union Trust Company: This institution is in the hands of a receiver. A statement of its affairs is being prepared, and will soon be made public. Depositors are cautioned against sacrificing their accounts. At this hour (10 o'clock) the bank is not opened and there is no probability that it will be opened.

A better feeling prevails this morning, but there is no telling what an hour may bring forth.

The Stock Exchange and the Gold Exchange Close their Doors.

NEW YORK, Sept 22—10 1/2 A. M.—The following notice has been issued: The New York Stock Exchange will remain closed to-day. A meeting of the Governing Committee will be held to-morrow morning at half past 10 o'clock.

(Signed) H. G. CHAPMAN, Pres't.

The Gold Exchange has been closed the same as the Stock Exchange. 112 has been established as the basis of settlements. The room will remain open [illegible] of settlement. The rate of interest is fixed at [illegible] per cent for carrying New York [illegible]

Condition and Attitude of Savings Banks.

NEW YORK, Sept 22.—A run was begun on the Seamen's Saving Bank in Wall street. Up-town savings banks have not yet been heard from.

From Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept 22.—Philadelphia banks have taken no action with regard to issuing certificates in place of legal tender for settlement at the clearing house. Such action is deemed unnecessary. Third street is very quiet.

Funeral of Mrs Ben Holladay.

NEW YORK, Sept 22.—The funeral of Mrs Ben Holladay was held yesterday in the private chapel of the family estate in Westchester county. A special train from the city carried numerous friends, including Peter Donohue, Commodore Garrison and many other Californians. After impressive ceremonies the remains were deposited in the family vault.

Yellow Fever Abating in Memphis.

MEMPHIS, Sept 22.—There was a marked falling off of deaths from yellow fever to-day, the total number [illegible] [illegible] physicians are sanguine as to the permanent abatement of the [illegible]

MEMPHIS, Sept 20.—There were thirteen deaths from yellow fever to-day, though there are but few new cases. Everybody is more hopeful, and it is believed the disease is fully under control. The cases under treatment generally [illegible]

SHREVEPORT, Sept 20.—The epidemic exhibits no abatement. New cases are not so numerous as during the first part of the week, but the death rate is fully as great. Good nursing is doing much for us. The outskirts of the city still show an increase of [illegible]

NOVA SCOTIA.

HALIFAX, Sept 21.—The steamer [illegible] from Newfoundland reports that an American steamer arrived there in a damaged condition, having been in collision with a fishing vessel at sea. Out of fifteen men on board the fishing vessel only three were saved.

MEXICO.

Reorganization of the Mexican Navy.

CITY OF MEXICO, via Havana, Sept 20.—The Government is engaged in re-establishing the Navy. It has ordered the purchase in England of four steamers.

Arrest of General Escobedo.

MATAMORAS, Sept 20.—Private advices received to-day from Monterey state that Rocha has arrested Gen Escobedo at Zacatecas. It is supposed that the Government, becoming suspicious of Gen Rocha's loyalty, has ordered Gen Escobedo, who was at San Luis Potosi, to relieve Gen Rocha of his command, and that when Escobedo arrived there Rocha pronounced against the Government and had taken Escobedo a prisoner. Telegraphic communication being interrupted, the truth of these rumors cannot be ascertained.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

The Feeling in England.

LONDON, Sept 22—1 P. M.—Much anxiety is manifested on all sides to hear further advices from New York. Jay Cooke, McCulloch & Co. continue to pay cash in the usual manner over the counter, and the run on their house has ceased. Much sympathy is expressed for the firm by leading bankers.

NEVADA.

WINNEMUCCA, Sept 22.—The stage that left here yesterday morning for Silver City was stopped by three masked men [illegible] miles from here and robbed of Wells, Fargo & Co's treasure box. Col Wood, U S Paymaster, en route for Camp McDermott to pay off the troops, was among the passengers and was also robbed. The amount which the robbers got is not yet known. Before leaving Winnemucca, the Paymaster's clerk told several persons they were going to pay off the troops, and several suspicious characters heard him, and it is thought they got horses and started ahead of the stage and waited for it. No resistance was made by Wells Fargo & Co's messenger or the passengers, although they were well armed.

GOLD HILL, Sept 22.—The funeral of Geo B Mudd, the last of the victims by our late mining disaster, took place to-day. He was interred by the Masonic Order, of which a large number attended. The Miners' Union also turned out, and the citizens generally made a large and imposing procession.

At 11 o'clock this morning the Gold Hill foundry became the scene of a terrible and bloody affray. John Nagle, a former employee, and Patrick Karvin, engineer, had some words, resulting in a fight, in which Nagle stabbed Karvin. James Brown and William Roughnan attempted to separate them, and were in turn both stabbed by Nagle. Brown and Karvin are seriously injured and may prove fatal to both. Roughnan is not seriously hurt. Nagle was arrested and is now in jail.

HAMILTON, Sept 22.—Finney, an accomplice in the Green murder at Eureka, was brought here to-day. His trial will commence early in October.

ARIZONA.

FLORENCE, Sept 22—via San Diego, Sept 22.—On the 12th inst., while prospecting on Pinal creek, sixty miles from Florence, a party was attacked by Apache Indians, who killed Wm Sampson, slightly wounded another man named Copel, and took two mules, blankets, camp equipage and killed a horse.

The construction party of the Arizona Military telegraph east of here have reached Potrero, 45 miles distant.

Manuel Subiate, one of the murderers of Tumbey, was wounded and captured and was being taken to Yuma by the Sheriff of Maricopa county, when near Kenyon Station the Sheriff, fearing an attempt would be made to lynch the prisoner, got out and started to make a circuit of the stage station on foot with the prisoner. When the stage reached the station some fifteen men had gathered. They took the way bill, found the Sheriff's and the prisoner's name entered. They scattered in search and found them. The prisoner was hung to a tree immediately.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept 22.—Wm Packer, Herman Frank and John Muller undertook to visit the wreck of the Costa Rica yesterday afternoon in a whitehall boat with a sail. [illegible] informs us that the Tualatin River Navigation Company will soon sell lots in Oswego.

As an earnest of their intentions, the new Iron Company have now employed 100 Chinamen, who are engaged in cutting wood, which is being rapidly converted into coal. About 30 men are employed in hauling wood, burning [illegible] and [illegible] Military Academy, immediately in Brayton Hall. The loss by the fire is about $15,000. Insurance on Academy buildings amounted to $15,000—not half enough to cover the loss.

It is positively ascertained that no lives were lost by the wreck of the Costa Rica. Divers are at work at the wreck to-day. They will continue to work whenever the state of the tide will permit.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept 22.—A dispatch was received from New York to-day ordering the suspension of the mail service of the [illegible] Mail steamers to Honolulu. [illegible] will be sent by the first sailing vessel.

Alexander McLean has sued the Blue Gravel Mining Co. to recover $10,000 damages for the loss of an arm by the alleged careless explosion of a blast in defendant's mine, where plaintiff was employed at the time of the accident.

The steamer [illegible] has been at the [illegible] of the wreck of the Costa Rica all day. The company's agents still entertain hopes of saving the hull of the vessel. Divers are at work trying to stop the leak in the bottom.

LETTER FROM TACOMA.

[CORRESPONDENCE OF THE OREGONIAN.]

TACOMA, Sept 18th, 1873.

The Northern Pacific Railroad Company having officially declared Tacoma to be the western terminus of their main road will undoubtedly silence the howlings of the Sound papers on that point, though it is not expected that Beriah Brown will cease misrepresenting everything in connection with the railroad and every person connected with it. When Messrs Ainsworth and Rice went East they took with them three different plats of the town sites for the consideration of the Directors, one of which it is expected will probably with a few changes be adopted. Capt. Ainsworth is expected home by the first of October, when the lots will be offered for sale. Quite a number of persons have selected their lots, and several have hauled lumber on to the ground selected, and some are erecting temporary buildings, thinking that they will thereby stand a better show of securing the lot they have chosen when they are put into market.

The first man to commence business on the new site was one John Dougherty, a shoemaker. He built his house on Saturday, and found such a demand for his services among the railroad hands, whose soles needed cobbling, that I am sorry to say he worked all day Sunday and until broad daylight on Monday. Earnings $15.

At present all lumber for the town has to be brought by wagon from the old town, and although the distance is scarcely a mile in a direct line, it is nearly two miles by the only road, which is now cut out, and teamsters charge from $3 to $5 per thousand for hauling. As soon as the Company's wharf is completed lumber can be hauled from the water at a small expense.

Building material, excepting brick, is low. Rough lumber is worth on the wharf $10 per M, rustic $17, flooring $17 to $18, and second quality dressed cedar $15.

Brick is high, being worth $15 per M, as all the brick used here are brought from other places on the Sound. There is plenty of good clay in the town site, some of it said to be good fire clay, and I have no doubt a brick yard will be one of the first industries established here.

The working force on the town site was increased to-day by about fifty Chinamen.

In addition to the road from the wharf to the top of the bluff, which alone is equal to the grading of ten miles of any railroad, the Company are grading Pacific and Multnomah avenue and Pine street, and will soon commence grading Tacoma avenue. I visited the new town site with one of your City Fathers, who is stopping here for a few days, and he was astonished at the amount of work that had been accomplished in a few weeks.

Oliver Denny, a photographer from Portland, is here taking views around Tacoma, and will return to Portland in a few days, when those who are curious to see how the terminus looks can have an opportunity.

The ship John Jay is loading lumber at the Tacoma Mill, and the [illegible] is hourly expected.

When the railroad is completed from Tacoma to Portland I would not be surprised if you shipped a large proportion of your freight from San Francisco by this route, as there are over 500 vessels a year arriving in Sound ports, and as nearly all of them are coming in ballast they can afford to bring freight at a very low figure, and I understand that it is the intention of the N. P. R. R. Co to put the rates down very low over their route.

The U. S. steamer [illegible] stand a number of days at Seattle recently, and the officers were royally entertained, and before leaving the Captain was presented with an elegant gold chain. Before leaving Seattle it was understood that the officers expressed their fears that the water was too deep in Commencement Bay for them to anchor. They evidently wanted to know how deep the deepest part of the bay was, for all the soundings they took were in the deepest part and were confined to a couple of hundred of yards in a bay nine miles long. Comment is unnecessary.

The other towns on the Sound think they have an awful good thing on Tacoma, and we can afford to let them think so, for we know that we have one of the finest harbors in the world, and then we have got that for which any of them would give all the anchorage they have and all their old boots besides, and that's the terminus, which are grapes that are extremely sour to some of them. I.

FORTY-TEN [illegible] AND [illegible] THEIR [illegible]

[From the Atlanta Ga Herald, Sept 1.]

It becomes our duty to [illegible] a record of the saddest occurrences that has taken place in Georgia for many days. It was a difficulty between the teacher and one of his students, a young man, which resulted in the sudden death of both parties. The horrible tragedy was enacted in Banks county, near Homer, the county [illegible] on Friday last, the 29th of August. The teacher of the school was Mr Alfred Alexander, aged 40 years, and the student Mr John H Moss, aged about 20 years. LETTER FROM T. W. DAVENPORT.

[illegible] Sept [illegible]

[illegible] concerning the conversation between myself and Mr Mitchell and the part he took in securing the passage of the endorsing resolution by the State Republican Convention. I saw Capt Crandall yesterday, and he [illegible] that he had no intention of presenting me falsely to the public, and he still thought that his article was a proper presentation of the matter. Mr Ben Strong supports Mr Crandall; both say they heard what was said by Mr Mitchell in [illegible]

It and Salem depot, concerning the conversation between us at Albany just before the Convention. In order to reassure and prove myself I called Messrs Ben Strong, H M Thatcher and Col N B Knight, who were also present at the time of the conversation at the Salem depot, before referred to, and these gentlemen said promptly and firmly that the article is not a fair and correct account, and that it is false in several particulars.

Their statement of the affair agrees very closely with my recollection. Here it is: Just as the northward bound train was arriving Mr Mitchell, who had been sitting in an omnibus with several persons around him, came out to me and commenced by saying that I had misunderstood or misrepresented him, and he desired me to state what he had said to me in the Albany Convention which I had related. Our conversation at Albany had occupied more than an hour and contained many points of discussion; the cars would soon start and there was no time for a proper explanation.

Mr Mitchell, without waiting for my answer, asked the following interrupting question: "Did I not say to you that I wanted the delegates to come together in private conference and discuss the question of the endorsing resolution, and that I (Mitchell) would accept the decision of the majority—I would acquiesce in the rule of the majority?"

I answered yes. He then turned around and called Col. Knight and others to witness my answer to the question, which he put again in nearly the same words. My answer was the same. He then commenced talking and explaining to the bystanders, nothing, after the aforesaid question was addressed to me, and I gave no answer. Mr Mitchell was considerably, in manner, perhaps excited, and said a few things from which I would have dissented but the cars were starting and we jumped aboard.

If he had asked me if he did not say that he considered the Republican party above any man and should not be sacrificed in the interest of any man, I would have answered, yes, and that it would make a strong case for Mr Mitchell, provided that were the whole truth. But it was not. The question he asked me and the latter one I would have answered were said by him in response to my prophesy in the Albany Convention. I told him most earnestly at that time if he persisted and succeeded in getting that resolution passed by the Convention, that where one man is now his enemy ten would be found to condemn him and curse his name because they would feel that you are perfectly willing to destroy or jeopardize the Republican party in order to serve your own personal ends. This brought out the reply which Mr Mitchell repeated at the depot, when he proved by me that he did say it.

What is attempted by the Statesman is to make it appear that the endorsing resolution was a compliment to Mr Mitchell by the Republican party; that it was unasked, at least not urged, pressed or wished for—not demanded, at most the people's representatives were informed that it would be agreeable and serviceable to their Senator in Congress. That Mr M went to Albany on business and left there before the resolution passed and the nomination was made will not prove what the Statesman desires. Mr Mallory says and has said to scores of persons that he went with Mr Mitchell to the Albany depot and tried to convince him that the resolution would not only tend to destroy the Republican organization, but increase his (Mitchell's) personal difficulties, and that he had better not require it of his friends. Mr Mitchell plead that the resolution was the only thing that would do him any good. Mr Mallory begged and plead in vain for the Republican party. Another of Mr Mitchell's friends, an office holder, told me that several of the Senator's friends had tried to dissuade him (Mitchell) but it was of no use—[illegible]

Mr Mitchell said to me in the beginning of our Albany conversation that "we have not come up here for any particular thing; all that we want is a resolution of endorsement for me," and then he proceeded to urge it with all the fascination and ingenuity characteristic of the man.

Some of those laboring for the resolution appeared to be actuated by the desire to do so because the OREGONIAN newspaper had said "we must not pass any resolution of any sort concerning Mr Mitchell's private character, if we desired the success of the Republican party at the coming election."

Soreheads must be crushed at all hazards, some said, "that it is even more important to strengthen the hands of our Senator than to elect a Congressman." Some said that Mr Mitchell had threatened to resign in case the resolution was not passed, and then a Democrat would be appointed to the place. A great many things pro and con have been said, not all true probably. But nothing [illegible]

Whenever any person protested that such a course would weaken and maybe destroy the Republican party, he would say that he did not desire to injure the party; that it was above any man; that if the majority disapproved of the resolution he would not insist upon it [illegible] All the time he left Albany it was just as well known by the majority of the Convention, and by the people in the public streets, that a majority of the Convention would vote for the resolution, and that Gov L F Grover had promised [illegible] that resolution [illegible] Mr Mitchell's friends said so, and not privately either.

After Mr Geary's promise [illegible] and after the passage of the resolution that got there [illegible] friends and [illegible] for many years. [illegible] him not to endorse the resolution [illegible] accepting the proffered nomination. [illegible] the resolution [illegible] Davenport, Watts, Knight and others [illegible] Senator Mitchell.

[illegible]

[illegible] J W Davenport [illegible] Albany Convention [illegible]

[illegible] New Which of them pray is effectually crushed? Which has Philip drunk and which is Philip sober? Maybe the Statesman will explain. Again it says that Mr Davenport was asked to state the language used by Mr Mitchell at the Mr Davenport did [illegible] Mr Davenport [illegible]

Mr Strong, Mr Thatcher and Col Knight all say that I made no statement, but was interrupted by Mr Mitchell's lawyer-like question. This proves one thing, that Capt. Crandall did not hear all that was going on.

It further says that "in substance Mr Davenport's statement was that Mr Mitchell had said that he realized what the effect might be upon him if the Convention should not say nothing, and what it would be if the Convention should adopt the resolution in question; that he wanted to have his friends consult together and after weighing all the circumstances to do in the matter what they should conclude would be right in regard to himself, and politic for the Republican party; that he considered the Republican party infinitely above any man of the party, and that while he should be gratified if they should conclude to express their confidence in his integrity, he did not ask them to do anything to jeopardize the party. Mr Davenport having made this statement, etc. Mr Mitchell turned to several gentlemen and called them to witness." Now, I wish to say that I never made any such a statement, in fact I made no statement, and I appeal to the several gentlemen who were called to witness.

As I was turning away to get upon the cars, I heard Mr Mitchell stating that he had said something like the foregoing which was attributed to me, but it was not addressed to me for any approval and I made no answer. Part of it I had heard him say in Albany, not in the Statesman's language quite. The other he may have said to some one but I knew nothing about it and could not have testified if I had had ever so much time.

The Statesman further says that Mr Mitchell there repeated what I have before quoted and that I gave my assent to it as a correct statement. In order to make sure of this part of it I obtained the statement which Mr Mitchell made and to which I replied Yes before the called witnesses, and here it is:

"Did I not say to you that I wanted the delegates to come together, in private conference and discuss the endorsing resolution, and that I would accept the decision of the majority—I would acquiesce in the rule of the majority?"

The above is as near the substance and language of the question asked by Mr Mitchell as we can recollect. Signed by

B STRANG,
H M THATCHER,
N B KNIGHT.

There is one fortunate feature of the circumstance, and that is that all of the gentlemen just named and also Mr Thos Rickey are uninterested, and they all recollect distinctly that Mr Mitchell gave me no time to say anything, but put the question to suit himself. Mr Rickey said that he recollected the haste with which Mr M interrupted me.

Mr Editor, it is very seldom that I have asked space in any newspaper for personal explanation. I do not know that I ever before appeared to be involved in a question of veracity. I hope that is not so now. I am not willing to believe that my old friend of 20 years or more—that Capt Crandall would willfully and maliciously misrepresent me. I am inclined to account for it by believing that much was inferred and that I was understood to assent to things which Mr Mitchell said, when in fact I did not. It is turning out just as I told Mr Mitchell—that this personal issue would stir up more bad blood, create more personalities, engender more animosities and perpetuate more feuds not only with him but a great many others than anything which had happened for the last ten years.

Hoping that we, the Republicans of Oregon, may get off of this vexing personal issue and begin once more upon legitimate political issues,

I am yours, truly,
T W DAVENPORT.

OREGON.

The State Fair grounds at Salem are being put in superb condition for the big show week after next.

Mr Kinney, of the Salem Mills, informs the Farmer that not more than half a dozen wheat raisers in Marion county will hold their wheat over this year.

The new bridge across Pudding river, below the eastside railroad bridge, will soon be completed, as the workmen have finished shingling and are now boarding up the ends.

We learn that about 4,000 bushels of wheat are daily received at Dayton. Most of it will be stored to await transportation by boat, as that mode is found to be cheaper than by rail.

D. D. Prettyman left at the Farmer office stalks of millet showing fine growth and a wealth of seed that speaks well for the soil it was raised in, as well as for the capacity of the plant to be serviceable.

A number of splendid specimens of the equine race are on their way to the State Fair ground from Jackson county. They are of the Percheron stock introduced into this State by Mr Myer, and are well worth seeing.

Workmen are engaged in rebuilding the steamer Beaver at Oregon City. The lower cabin frame is in position, but it will require some time to finish her. The Shoo Fly is lying near the lower sawmill, Oregon City, being rebuilt for the upriver trade.

A tannery near Salem was burned down last Sunday morning. The origin of the fire is supposed to have been incendiary. Being within one mile of the town, the Salem Fire Department arrived on the ground in time to render valuable aid in saving other property. The tannery belonged to a Mr Clarke.

While the Salem Fire Department were fighting the flames last Sunday morning Mr J. W. Minto, Foreman of Tiger Engine Company, received a painful cut on the wrist which will lay him up for some time. One of the firemen was cutting away a plank, when from some cause the ax struck the Foreman across the wrist, cutting a frightful gash.

OCCIDENT'S GREAT TROT.

Rev Dr Freeman, for the past six months pastor of the First Baptist Church in Seattle, has left to take pastoral charge of a church in San Francisco.

The cylinder head of the small engine which drives the pony gang in the Seabeck mill, burst a few days ago, doing considerable damage to its machinery.

A vein of something resembling bright coal has lately been discovered in the coast range, by residents of Mason county, which is very light and it is said will not burn.

The work of grading the railroad from Kalama to Tacoma is now very nearly finished, the laborers being less than half a mile from the depot at the end of the track.

The survey of the public lands on the islands of the Archipelago de Haro was suspended by order of the Government a few days since, and the surveyors have returned home.

J. H. Ferryman, of Walla Walla, is in a tight place for making some of the "Lo" family tight on bad whisky. Henry Zeller of the same place is ditto for the same reason.

The Insane Asylum at Steilacoom has now forty inmates, thirty-two of whom are males and eight females. The asylum never before contained so many of that unfortunate class.

There are three surveying parties now in the field within the limits of Whatcom county, W. T., which shows that Uncle Sam takes an interest in his most distant possessions.

The first plan of the city of Tacoma reported by the home engineer has been set aside, and Fred Law Olmstead, of New York, is now engaged in laying off the expectant great mart on paper.

A new coal ledge has been discovered on the Skookum Chuck, and is said to be six feet thick where it crops out. Some of it is hard and compact, and is a very good article of bituminous coal.

The petition to President Grant to change the southern boundary of the new Indian reservation from Sun river to the Great Falls of the Missouri, has received over two thousand signatures already.

In the printed report of the proceedings of the Pierce County Commissioners' Court, an item appears in the bills ordered paid of $28 to A. J. Burge for services as juryman in 1861. This is the latest case of back pay.

The sawmill at Tacoma is cutting up the lumber faster than the ships carry it away, and the cleared spots on the wharf are being rapidly covered up. The cut is about 60,000 feet a day, which is more than any one common vessel loads.

The Walla Walla Fair was running last week. The Spirit of Thursday says: "As we go to press, this is the third day of the Fair, the display or attendance are neither of them large; the races monopolize nearly all of the interest, and are quite numerous."

The Tacoma Tribune says the report of the failure of Jay Cooke & Co. caused one or two timid individuals to withdraw their deposits from the bank of Cooke Brothers, in Tacoma, and they seemed surprised at the readiness with which their money was handed to them.

Ore shipments from Little Cottonwood, Utah, last week were greater than for any other week this season. Six of the principal mines aggregated over 2,000 tons. It is estimated that there are between 3,000 and 4,000 tons on the dumps. Reports from other districts in Utah indicate a like improvement.

The Courier's correspondent at Swinomish, W. T., says: "On the Swinomish Flats will be raised about fifty thousand bushels of grain this season, consisting of oats, barley, and a small amount of wheat. Money seems to be a very scarce article here at present, but in a few weeks when the grain begins to go from here we all expect to be flush and consequently happy."

On the 10th inst. a French half breed by the name of Charlie Rivet was loading his wagon, which was upon the mountain side near Helena, and no team attached to it at the time; the brake gave way and it started down the hill at a rapid rate. In endeavoring to stop the wagon Mr Rivet was thrown to the ground below it and one wheel passed over the entire length of his body, killing him almost instantly.

Last Saturday night Sergeant F. Howard, of Co. B, 21st Infantry, at Fort Walla Walla, attempted suicide in his room at the barracks by placing the muzzle of his gun to his forehead with the stock resting upon the floor and pulling the trigger with his foot. It is thought that just as he was ready to touch the trigger he heard some one coming, and in his haste in pulling the trigger kicked the trigger with his foot. The charge went off and the bullet passed along his forehead, inflicting a severe but not dangerous flesh wound.

A diabolical attempt to fire Helena, Montana, was made on the 14th inst. A large valise or trunk was filled with old papers, dry cigar boxes and other tinder, all saturated most thoroughly with coal oil. The trunk was then placed in a prominent building, and a lighted candle set in it so that by the time the villains got away the tinder [illegible]. An accidental but timely discovery was the only reason there was not great destruction of property. The citizens offered next day a reward of $1,000 for the detection of the incendiary.

Two detectives arrived at Salt Lake City week before last, having warrants for the arrest of two individuals belonging to that city, charged with swindling in a large deal. These enterprising parties had victimized some credulous capitalists by selling them a rich silver mine which exists somewhere on this side of Sancho Panza's Island of Barataria. They drew the handsome sum of $30,000 and had not even dug a hole in the ground. One of the swindlers gave himself up to avoid exposure. The other lit out and is supposed to have gone to Jewa.

The Salt Lake Tribune of the 16th inst., has the following pointed inquiries, as to certain mysterious disappearances of witnesses in that locality recently: "The church paper has been asking, for two or three weeks, after the whereabouts of Thompson and his son, who were witnesses of the Cotton tragedy in Bingham Canyon. Will the News ask what has become of one of the Mormon brethren who claims some property east of the Godbe store, in opposition to the claims of Brigham Young for the same property? He came here two weeks ago and has not been seen or heard from for over two weeks by his wife or any of his relatives and acquaintances. We hope he has not 'gone under.'"

A correspondent writing from Skagit river, to the Olympia Courier, tells of a clump of wheat grown on a farm in that region, consisting of 145 stalks from a single seed, and each head averaging 33 grains. Mr. Wells had a field of wheat which produced 70 bushels to the acre. Mr. Kinkaid, one of oats, that [illegible] 100 bushels to the acre. As for turnips, carrots, parsnips and potatoes, he [illegible] in the [illegible] the [illegible] valley. Stock are getting quite plentiful and are large and fat. Mr. William Johnson has a yearling bull weighing 800 pounds. We are extremely glad to learn of such a flourishing state of affairs among our lower Sound population.

The new Agent appointed to succeed O. [illegible] at Grand river, Dacotah, recently held a [illegible] with his gentle Sioux wards, during the [illegible] of which several scenes, partaking somewhat of the tragic order, were "put upon the boards." The Agent, who once or twice came very near being playfully tomahawked, held his ground courageously, and laid down "the law and the gospel" to his wards so [illegible] and forcibly that the Indians were [illegible] and withheld their intended bloody [illegible] nation. While talking "good medicine" to the assembled braves one of the gentle [illegible] sprung up and was about to brain the Agent with his little battle-ax. Unmoved by this bit of pleasantry, the Agent struck a heroic attitude, and cried out to the Red Man: "Come on! Kill me? It is an easy thing to do. If you strike me or kill me it will be but the beginning of the end. [illegible] the Great Spirit, will smite you. Grant, the Great Father, will send his [illegible] down upon you and wipe you out." After talking in this strain for some time another fragile savage, of dramatic [illegible] gathered up his shooting-iron, and in [illegible] putting a load of buckshot and slugs in the Agent's bowels. A chief held back the [illegible] brave, while the Agent, disposed, it [illegible] seem, to court martyrdom at the [illegible] "Lo," shouted defiantly: "Turn the [illegible] loose! Let him shoot me! I am only one. [illegible] can be [illegible] My people won't [illegible] but you will suffer dearly for [illegible] we are told [illegible] which we are free [illegible] they [illegible] and have been so [illegible] savage [illegible] so out of [illegible] at Grand River, to [illegible] martyr, is still [illegible] God's [illegible]

TUESDAY MORNING SEPT 23 1873

MR GEARY'S LETTER

The Bulletin of yesterday contains the following extracts from what purports to be a private letter written by Rev Edward R Geary of Albany to a friend in this city

My remarks before the Convention last Friday pending the count of the ballot sprung from the emergency and as recollected were correctly reported in the Bulletin of the next day, with some verbal exceptions not affecting the sense What I said to Hiram Smith after his nomination I have nowhere unsaid I intend to vote for him as a public duty, as demanded by party fealty and consistency, and as impelled by personal regard and friendship

I continue to hold all questions affecting the character and reputation of Mr Mitchell in reserve of judgment The validity of much of the testimony adduced is to my mind not apparent A conclusion in th[illegible] should rest on conjecture or partial and ex parte statements Reputation in the exalted or the humble should be derived from an acquaintance with the related facts But the question of Mr Mitchell's culpability in fact or degree is in no way germane to the issue now before the people of Oregon—the el[illegible]tion of a Congressman.

The success of the Republican cause as em[illegible] liberty, union and progress, is of [illegible] importance—State and National and it is unbecoming Republicans to jeopard its [illegible] by unseemly and factious broil in the [illegible] of their marshaled antagonists. The [illegible] of the election must be determined [illegible] can be settled afterwards The [illegible] of d[illegible] usion has strewn human [illegible] with the wrecks of the greatest and [illegible] enterprises Let Oregon beware of [illegible] example Yours truly

EDWARD R GEARY

Mr. Geary declares that he shall "vote for Hiram Smith as a public duty" In other words, he is under a moral obligation to do something And that something is—what? Simply to say that, in his opinion, bigamous intercourse running [illegible] a period of five years is "consistent, upright and honorable conduct" Is Mr. Geary willing to stand by this doc[illegible] to preach it along with that other [illegible] is honorable in all, and the bed [illegible]? Or will he choose to recon[illegible] woful scene of a young woman [illegible] deserted, wronged in the foul[illegible] inconceivable manner, yet struggling [illegible] through bitter years of penury and [illegible] while her betrayer is reveling in [illegible] thousands in a far off land, with [illegible] teaching of Holy Writ "If [illegible] provide, not for his own, and for those of his own house, he hath [illegible] the faith and is worse than an infidel." What kind of moral obligation [illegible] Mr. Geary conceive himself to be [illegible] to a man who has thus pl[illegible] him[illegible] the ban of the mo[illegible] re[illegible]

It is a well-k[illegible] that [illegible] was a candida[illegible] the [illegible] Convention; [illegible] that [illegible] The curious [illegible] how this occurred. On [illegible] Senator Mitchell had [illegible] the Albany Convention [illegible] Mr. [illegible] to-day be the Rep[illegible] can [illegible] In this [illegible] of Mr. Geary's theory of "public [illegible] the length of voting for and [illegible] of Mr. [illegible] upon a [illegible] which he (Mr. G) could not [illegible] stand! This is the reductio [illegible] which follows Mr. Geary's [illegible] excellent [illegible] would inter[illegible] that "the question of [illegible] culpability, in fact [illegible] is in no way germane to the issue." If, then, it [illegible] matter of endorsing se[illegible] and bigamy is in no way [illegible] (germane?) to the issue, why [illegible] decline the nomination [illegible] almost unanimously tendered [illegible] Without this there was clear sail[illegible] for the Republican candidate The [illegible] of which Mr. Geary in common [illegible] others is guilty is this that no [illegible] outside of the platform can be [illegible] as binding on the candidate, [illegible] any expression of sentiment of [illegible] character is the authoritative declara[illegible] of the party as far as any convention [illegible] anything authoritative

Mr. Geary is willing to support Mr [illegible] moreover, because he has not had [illegible] sufficient to convince him of [illegible] Mitchell's guilt There is here [illegible] confession that if he had such evidence he might act otherwise We are [illegible] aware of the fact that Mr [illegible] has never read the statement of [illegible] and that he has never [illegible] the painful story of Sadie Hoon, [illegible] girl who was seduced by Senator Mitchell, even while she was under [illegible] The reflection will occur [illegible] Mr. Geary might with a good degree [illegible] have informed himself on a [illegible] so vital to good morals. Mr. Geary avers that the question of Senator Mitchell's guilt is in no way germane to the issue, and yet, by his own confession, he is utterly ignorant of the value and ex[illegible] of the charges against the Senator

We esteem and revere the unquestioned [illegible] of Mr Geary's character and we are not disposed to exaggerate the gravity of his error. But we are pained for that he has been led into an indiscretion which can result only in misfortune to himself No man can safely confront a public sentiment, deep-seated as this is without far [illegible] ill It is no part of our present intention to dispute with Mr Geary the justice or charitableness of his covert insinuation that the OREGONIAN and its thousands of supporters throughout the State are [illegible] engaged in "unseemly and factious broils We may have occasion to refer again to the subject

NOT CHARGEABLE TO JAY COOKE

From Salem comes the disgusting intelligence that Cranfill has run out of kalsomine, and the Statesman has gone into winter quarters General demoralization is what is the matter There is insubordination in the composing room and mutiny among the foreman, who remarks in italics that he'll be blanked if he'll elect any blank Congressman unless he gets his pay" This is a cheerless outlook for Hiram. A daily paper cannot be run without printers, and printers must have their weekly stipend We suggest a tribunal of arbitration similar to that of Geneva. No charge for the suggestion Hiram has got to come out fairly and squarely on the back-pay business The Statesman must have kalsomine, and the little game of poker must go on Here is a good place for an endorsement One in marketable paper would be preferable to an endorsement of "the consistent upright and honorable conduct of the editor Give him an endorsement by all means If necessary let "the old man spare part of the revenue wrung from the farmers of Douglas county by the tariff increase

AN OVERZEALOUS CHAMPION

It would be ruinous to Mr Holladay's standing in the commercial and financial world if the public should conclude to gauge his truthfulness and good faith by the utterances of the parties he has employed to speak for him We can understand just how the mendacious faculty which is so largely developed in the editorial staff of the Bulletin can be made to be serviceable in the present crusade against good morals, the sanctity of the marriage tie and the inviolability of the home circle The political rottenness of which it is chief defender was begotten by a fraud and by fraud and deceit it must live its ephemeral life But while the Bulletin is disseminating its moral poison through the body politic it pauses for a moment to remember the object of its creation. Its primary, most reputable function is to sustain Mr Holladay's credit. It was founded by that gentlemen, its large monthly deficits are sustained by him and its managers ought in all good conscience, to do their level best' toward propping up his falling credit Of course in endeavoring to do this our cotemporary has a perfect right to choose between methods It has chosen, in one instance, at least, the very crooked path of falsehood In yesterday's issue it quoted the Benton Democrat as follows

ATTENTION FARMERS!—The other day at Roseburg says the Corvallis Democrat wheat went up to 75 cents per bushel Immediately orders were telegraphed from Portland to the local freight agents to advance the tariff on the railroad three cents per bushel So it will be seen that the farmers are not to reap the benefit of any advances in the price of their grain

Commenting on the excerpt, the Bulletin boldly says "We are authorized by the Railroad Company to state that the above is entirely false"

We cannot imagine what motive could actuate the Bulletin in uttering so gross and willful a falsehood, as we are informed and believe this to be It is stated by some of the most reliable of the many extensive shippers of wheat in this city, that the tariff on wheat from Roseburg to Portland has been advanced three cents per bushel within a few weeks past We are not inclined to abate the Bulletin's summary of the benefits the railroad has conferred upon the farmers of Southern Oregon in the matter of speedy and sure transportation Many of these are unquestioned Nor are we amenable to its charge of "croaking at railroads." But we must needs stand in awe of the astounding audacity which enables the editor of the Bulletin to tell the farmers of Southern Oregon that they are not paying an increased tariff on their products, when it is to them a fact demonstrated day by day The [illegible]iveness of this cheek is simply enormous; particularly so, when we consider that his salary is paid out of this tax on the farming communities

Boston papers containing full reports of the proceedings of the Worcester Convention, are at hand General Butler fought courageously from the first, and yielded only when it was apparent that further contest was hopeless His first move was the introduction of the following resolution which he supported in a long and able argument

WHEREAS, The great principle of obedience to the will of the majority underlies all republican governments, and is the sole test of fearless and partisan organization and no honorable man ought or should desire to take part in a political convention who does not propose to abide by its action when fairly expressed, and

WHEREAS Mr Henry M Green elected a delegate and holding a seat in this Convention, has publicly declared that he would not be bound by the nomination of this Convention in case Benj F Butler is its nominee for Governor therefore

Resolved That said Henry M Green be debarred from taking any any part in the proceedings of this Convention [Tremendous applause, with some hisses and cries of "Too thin"]

Colonel Codman of Boston followed with the annexed which was ruled out of order as an amendment

WHEREAS The Republican party has declared it is in favor of paying the public debt in gold as the honor of the nation demands and

WHEREAS Benjamin F Butler a member of this Convention has refused practically to acquiesce in this cardinal doctrine of the Republican party therefore

Resolved [Loud and prolonged applause—mingled with hisses so sharp as to drown the voice of the speaker for a few moments] That Benjamin F Butler be debarred from taking a part in this Convention [Renewed applause and hisses]

Among the wreck of private character and the ruin of official reputation which strew the pathway of popular inquiries into the public service or the disastrous searchings of investigating committees this one fact stands conspicuous it is a bad year for Senators Kansas spoke boldly out in dishonoring Pomeroy Wisconsin followed suit in repudiating Carpenter Oregon is very quietly entering her protest against iniquity in high places And now the Democratic County Central Committee of San Francisco falls upon California to put on the sackcloth In the S F Chronicle of th[illegible] inst appears a report making the gravest charges of corruption and fraud against Senator Casserly This corruption and fraud it is alleged was used in the election of the distinguished gentleman in 1868 The charges are made in plain unmistakable English and the committee avers its readiness to produce evidence in support of its allegations The report is signed by the Chairman the Secretary and other members of the committee and constitutes a formidable impeachment of a gentleman whose private and political character has been very much above the average Senator Casserly simply has not yet been heard

CITY.

DIFFERENCE IN TEMPERATURE.—Mr Evans of the Signal Service Corps is in the habit of ascertaining each day the precise temperature of the Willamette river both at the surface and at the bottom. This is done very readily. He places a small and delicately constructed thermometer in a long tin tube. The tube is about one foot long and one inch in diameter. It is simply constructed with a valve both at the top and bottom. When the tube sinks through the water both valves are opened and the fluid passes freely in and out. However when the tube is lifted up by the cord to which it is attached both valves instantly close and the water is not allowed to escape. By this simple contrivance water from the bottom of the river can be brought to the surface. In determining the temperature Mr Evans first dips the tube full of water at the surface. He then takes off the top, draws off the thermometer and a glance will enable him to ascertain the degree of cold. He then lets the tube down to the bed of the river and determines in the same manner. Yesterday he found the water at the surface was 77° and at the depth of 90 feet 75° or two degrees colder. Weekly statements of the temperature thus taken are forwarded to Washington. The object of such observations is for the benefit of fish culture and is made a portion of Mr Evans duties.

TAKEN BY SURPRISE.—Our enterprising fellow townsman Mr J S Keller who lost nearly everything in the great fire has completed a large two story wooden building on the same site formerly occupied by him at the corner of Madison and First streets. Yesterday he moved his butcher shop into the building and again began business at the old stand. Last evening a number of his friends to manifest their good feelings towards Mr Keller and to congratulate him on his successful resumption of business secured a band of music and precipitated themselves en masse to the number of about 300, on the astonished gentleman. They made themselves very familiar and requested to have the large hall upstairs cleared for dancing. This the highly delighted host proceeded to do. The band discoursed their sweetest strains the crowd swung in the mazy circles until a late hour while everything was serene.

NEW LINE.—Several men were engaged yesterday in stretching a telegraph wire along Front street down as far as A street. From that point the wire was run to the new brick building soon to be occupied by the Western Union Telegraph Company. This line is only designed as a special one and intended to be used in cases of emergency. At present the old line, which is used daily by the Company comes down on the east side of the river to a point opposite the Cosmopolitan Hotel. Then it crosses the river by means of a cable. The new line runs up on the west side opposite [illegible], where it crosses the river and [illegible] to the east until it intersects and is attached to the main line. In the event the cable at this city gets out of order or is severed, the branch line that crosses at Milwaukie can be brought into requisition and no delay occasioned.

TOTAL ASSESSMENT.—From Mr C E Perrine, Assessor for Columbia county, we learn that the following is the total assessment of that county for 1873

		VALUE.
No. of acres of land	59,217	$185,903
Value of all lots (in towns)		60,012
Value of implements and merchandise		66,462
Money, notes and accounts		107,441

Number of horses and mules, 899		14,966
Number of cattle, 2,784		51,227
Number of sheep and goats 1,098		2,220
Number of swine, 594		1,816
Total valuation		$507,674
Less total indebtedness		141,073
Exemptions		50,519

Total amount of taxable property $315,482.
Poll tax assessed, $810.
In excess of last year on the assessment of property $169.

BRAKEMAN KILLED.—Last evening the sad intelligence was received from St Joe, that a young brakeman named Emmet was run over and instantly killed at Gaston station. No particulars are furnished further than that [illegible] was sitting on the locomotive "Yamhill," as she was going southward the freight train, and was instantly crushed to death. The terrible accident occurred at 6.30 o'clock last evening. The deceased resided at Cornelius, and the remains were brought down there last night for interment. This shocking casualty should [illegible] all persons who work about trains that too great caution cannot be exercised at all times and under all circumstances. The [illegible] failure to observe caution sometimes costs a life, as in the instance just recorded.

FIRING A PISTOL.—A Chinaman named Ah Bock was taken into custody last night for discharging a pistol. He was standing on the back porch of his humble abode, and for some reason fired off a pistol. A group of his countrymen were standing some distance off in a dark alley, engaged in earnest conversation. It is alleged that Ah Bock discharged his weapon intentionally at the squad. Owing to the darkness and random aim, no one was harmed. Officer McCoy heard the shot and ran to the scene. He arrested Ah Bock and lodged him in jail. This morning the truth or the falsity of the charge will be established in the Police Court.

MORE EXTENDED FIELD.—Major H M Robert, who has recently been transferred from this Lighthouse District to the Eleventh, with his headquarters at Milwaukee, Wisconsin will leave here for the scene of his future labors in about six weeks. The Eleventh District embraces a much more extended field of operations than the one in which he has been engaged for the last three years in this State and Washington Territory. Some idea can be formed of the difference in the districts when the number of lighthouses is considered. This district has eleven, and the one to which Major Robert has been assigned for duty has ninety-one.

MAKING CHARTS.—Mr S O L Potter has just returned from the survey of the mouth of the Columbia in and about Sand Island. He is preparing a chart which will show the encroachments made by the water on the land during the last year. Since the last survey was made, the eastern shore has been swept to the sea for a considerable distance. Captain I. D. Randall has completed the hydrographic survey of the Columbia at the famous Hogs Back and is also engaged in drafting a chart.

WORK ON THE ROLLS.—The clerks engaged on the assessment rolls for this county are getting along encouragingly with the labor. Already the work has progressed through letter "P" and is going rapidly towards the end of the alphabet. The State Board of Equalization now in session at Salem has granted Mr Dolan until one week from to-morrow—the 1st prox.—in which to complete the rolls. He informed us that by or before that date he will have all the work finished.

MONTHLY SOIREES.—The first of a series of monthly social gatherings was inaugurated at Turn Verein Hall last evening. Cleared of the many gymnastic arrangements the floor afforded opportunities for full freedom and some four quadrille sets were formed leaving plenty of room for as many more. An excellent band lent an inspiring effect to the movements of the [illegible]. The [illegible] promises to be successful.

LARCENY.—A Quong, a Chinaman who has figured quite conspicuously several times in the Police Court was arrested last evening on a charge of larceny. He was taken in custody and on an examination of his abode a number of tools, clothes etc were found. The celestial will have an opportunity to explain [illegible] matters in Court this morning.

CEASED OPERATIONS.—Last evening, we were shown a dispatch sent to a gentleman in this city from one of the Northern Pacific Railroad contractors. The telegram stated that the contractor would come over to Portland in a few days as railroad operations both at Tacoma and along the line had been entirely suspended.

TO EXAMINE THE CHANNEL.—Major Robert will start south this morning on the westside train. He will examine the channel of the Yamhill river for some distance with the view of removing impediments to navigation, and general improvement of the stream.

QUARTERLY EXAMINATION OF TEACHERS.—On Saturday next Sept 27th the regular quarterly examination of applicants as teachers in this county will take place in the High School from 9 A M to 4 P M. Messrs C J Mulkey and C J Marcy are invited to act with the Superintendent as a Board of Examiners.

LIGHT DOCKET.—But a few weeks intervene between now and the time when the Circuit Court for this county will convene. So far very few cases have been filed and the present indications are that there will be a light docket to dispose of at the fall term.

OSWEGO IRON WORKS

The remark has been made that iron is worth more than gold. Estimated by its numberless uses the comparison is true and an iron mine will enrich a people more [illegible] and more largely than a gold mine. The iron mines of Great Britain have drawn to that kingdom the riches of other countries for centuries past and the fear of their exhaustion alarms iron mongers and statesmen alike. The fact that one of the largest iron manufacturing establishments of that realm—worth millions—is reported as about to be transferred to the banks of the Delaware river contiguous to the vast iron and coal beds of Pennsylvania is an omen that the United States are to be among the greatest if not the foremost producers of iron manufactures in the world as England and Scotland have been. It is a pleasing fact that this metal is so widely and profusely distributed as to prevent any great monopoly in its production. Pennsylvania gains immense wealth annually because their enterprise has been foremost to develop their iron mines. The Iron Mountain of Missouri only waits the hand of labor and capital to enrich that State.

We are not obliged to send to the East or the West, to England or to Sweden for our iron as we have done for twenty five years past. The hills about Oswego seven miles up the river and near its banks abound with iron ore of the richest and most highly carbonized kind. The products of the furnace two years ago, in pigs and in the castings especially the stoves equaled any brought to this market. It was a calamity to this city and to the State when the fires were allowed to die out in the stack. It is a corresponding gratification that the company now resume the business of making pig iron with the prospect of permanence. It will be a greater gain if they erect rolling mills and a nail factory, for which it is understood Captain Kellogg the chief proprietor of the town has given them land and water power enough. Their employment of Mr Botsford, a skilled iron manufacturer who arrived on the last steamer from Massachusetts as their foreman and manager indicates a purpose to do all that the demands of business will require and justify. Their location is admirable: steamboats pass their works several times a day so that shipments can be made at smallest cost in all directions into the interior towns and settlements, or outward upon the ocean. A water power of 100 feet fall, with a lake reservoir three miles long by half a mile broad fed by the Tualatin river, gives an ample supply for all their purposes and for a great variety of other manufactures. It is equal to a river ten times as large with a ten foot fall—such as any great corporation in Boston, like that which built up Lowell and Lawrence, Mass, Manchester, N H, and Lewiston Maine would eagerly purchase and use to the utmost for all kinds of manufactures.

The Tualatin valley for fifty miles has the largest amount and the finest kinds and varieties of timber, such as oak, alder, maple, ash, pine, cedar and fir for wagons and carriages and agricultural machinery and for furniture and building, of any region of equal size in Oregon or Washington. It is the most accessible and the most easily transported on the Tualatin river and its branches, which winds about through this whole region and of which the pass at Oswego is the best outlet for commercial purposes.

All this lake and river of water is held and controlled by a dam extending from the rock banks across the stream hardly more than 200 feet long and 20 feet high.

The opportunities for other manufacturing enterprises or for milling—as the abundant wheat of the Tualatin Plains can easily and cheaply float by this route to market—are very obvious to the most casual observer.

A leading manufacturer from San Francisco last fall examined these ore beds and iron works and took a map of the whole region drained by the Tualatin and expressed his great surprise that this water power, and the greater one at Oregon City were not used by our capitalists to develop our great resources which lie so near and so abundant. He remarked "You can make money where we cannot run a spindle. It costs our woolen mills $40 per day of 12 hours for power alone—$30 for fuel and $10 for engineer and fireman. It costs you hardly $10 for the same power. It costs us the interest on $80 000 worth of real estate for our Works. It costs you for the same amount of real estate the interest of hardly $20 000. Your workmen can live as cheap as ours. The raw material costs you but little, if any, more than it does us. You gain $30, at least, per day in power, and where a mill is run 24 hours you gain $80 per day and the interest of $60 000 constantly. So you see that you have the advantage of us in manufacturing and you can ship almost as easily to any part of the world. If your merchants and rich men will spend a part of the money which they are putting into fine houses and stores, in establishing manufactures so near their homes, and so under their control, as Boston merchants do, they will have a constant and growing business prosperity. Your city will increase and your people will all find work enough, and you will have home and foreign markets for your productions. Your State needs this kind of enterprise. It takes but little capital to start any manufactory. Begin small but with the latest and best machinery and a good foreman. The labor question will adjust itself. All who are willing to work will find enough to do. We of this coast have the advantage of England in this respect and before 20 years perhaps in 15 we will lay down our woolens in Liverpool cheaper and better than they can make and sell them at home. We produce the raw material and we can make the goods."

Upon further inquiry we find that the water power, which this gentleman estimated to cost $10 per mill per day of twelve hours actually costs the manufacturers at Oregon City not more than $3 or $4 per twenty four hours. The Oswego power can be procured equally cheap we presume.

Capt J. Kellogg informs us that the Tualatin River Navigation Company will soon sell lots in Oswego.

As an earnest of their intention the new Iron Company have now employed 100 Chinamen who are engaged in cutting wood which is being rapidly converted into coal. About 30 men are employed in hauling wood, burning coal and getting out the ore. A considerable quantity of the ore has already been taken out and delivered. The new company propose commencing active operations about the first of November. The services of two experienced colliers have been secured by the new company. In addition a third collier arrived on the last steamer in company with Mr Botsford. The next steamer will bring still another. The new company evidently mean business if appearances are to be taken as evidence of that fact.

The following gentlemen constitute the Board of Directors of the new company: Henry Failing, W S Ladd, C H Lewis, J A Davis and M S Burrell. The following are the officers: President, M S Burrell; Vice President, J A Davis; Secretary, [illegible]; Superintendent, Chas F Botsford.

OUT DOOR SPORTS.

The rowing race which will come off Thursday down the river below Swan Island promises to be an unusually attractive and exciting contest. A rowing match of four oars on a side will be given between the boats [illegible] and [illegible]. The distance will be four miles—two miles from the point of starting to a stake and then back to the place of starting. We are not at liberty to [illegible] the names of the parties who will participate in the contest. The [illegible] is manned by a [illegible] crew but very [illegible] built and thirty eight feet long. She [illegible] light [illegible] will make a splendid [illegible]. Her rival the [illegible] is entirely new and in the essentials of a [illegible] is not wanting. The [illegible] is thirty six feet long. With [illegible] it will be closely contested. The owners of the respective boats have secured a steamer for that day to convey those who desire to witness the race to and from the place designated. The Washington Guard have been invited to accompany the excursion and have signified their acceptance. A similar invitation has also been extended the Emmet Guard. This evening a meeting will be held by that Company to determine whether or not the invitation will be accepted.

PERSONAL.

Mr A B Cosper of Salem favored us with a call yesterday.

Ben Shunk of Westport and Geo Mercer of Corvallis are in the city.

Rev P S Knight pastor of the Congregational Church of Salem called on us last evening.

Col Chas Taylor of Dayton is now in the city. He reports lots of wheat and plenty of dust in Yamhill.

S G Skidmore Esq the druggist proceeded overland yesterday morning to Sacramento at which point he takes the cars for the Eastern States.

Among the passengers who were on board the ill fated steamer Costa Rica which was wrecked off the entrance to the harbor of San Francisco a few days ago, was Mr C Nordhoff the well known correspondent of the New York Tribune and Harper's Weekly. Mr Nordhoff visited Portland about two months ago. Fortunately, he escaped with the remainder of the passengers.

Mr Charles Smith one of the firm of Smith Bros the well known foundrymen of this city, reached Chicago yesterday bound west. Mr Smith has been absent some months and during that time has traveled extensively over the United States and a large portion of Europe. He spent several weeks at the World's Exposition at Vienna. His many friends in Portland will be pleased to welcome him home.

THE COURTS.

U S CIRCUIT COURT—DEADY J

MONDAY Sept 22 1873

S S Etheridge assignee of estate of A J Fleming bankrupt vs W R Jackson and Robert Imbrie motion to quash summons allowed.

Adjourned until next Monday.

THE TRUE REPUBLICAN DOCTRINE

From the proceedings of the Worcester Convention we take the annexed speech of ex Governor Alexander Bullock of Worcester President of the Convention. On being introduced to the Convention by General Butler Gov Bullock said

GENTLEMEN OF THE CONVENTION: You will accept my thanks for the honor you confer upon me and I accept the office knowing that in a representative convention of Massachusetts men it should not be a difficult duty of the presiding officer to interpret and apply the rules of order and courtesy which spring from the personal honor and self respect of the members.

My words shall be few. You have assembled the chosen representatives of the Republicans of the State when discussions and events which may be observed in the country admonish wisdom and circumspection here. It is in the year succeeding an election of President that men feel the strings of party loosening from their limbs, exercise more freely their own choice and judgment and organize within their own minds ideas as to the persons and policy and administrations. What shall happen at the next quadrennial election depends much upon what is promulgated and more upon what is done in the interval by authorized and official public agents. While this is in a degree true immediately after any inauguration of the President it is especially and significantly true at this time. The Republican party came out of the last canvass with very large majorities—partly because of the absence of a united and homogeneous opposing party, in part because of a more general belief of their promises of reform than of the same promises made by their opponents, partly because of the power of public patronage which has been unduly exercised by every Administration since that of John Quincy Adams, in part because a practical and commercial people are slow to change their government in a period of material prosperity and above all I apprehend because of the confidence the country had in the plain modest but clear character of the President. The expiration of the present term will complete a period of sixteen years of what I may call continuous [illegible]

Our party then [illegible] Senator and Representative [illegible] and strength [illegible] its prolonged years from many of its former issues it was receding from [illegible] first nursed unwittingly and then tolerated unwillingly from the possibilities of diversions in a general curiosity for new agitations and new departures from the suspicions cherished by a stern and just people that where there is so much smoke of investigation there must be some fire of truth. And now is the hour nor one hour too soon to arrest the tendencies and correct the abuses wherever they may be found. Let us not be found in the same order of time with the great Cardinal who after the discovery of his deceptions upon his sovereign and his ruin [illegible] the public moneys and after his own downfall bitterly exclaimed that corruption wins not more than honesty.

THE NEED OF REFORM

And now fellow citizens and Republicans are there no signs of the times from California from new names and new organizations in the West from the reports which come to [illegible] what is going on in [illegible] canvassing—are there no signs visible to the Republicans of the State and of all the States that if we would continue our power for all the good we must rise to the exigency of the occasion. I [illegible] technical method of civil service [illegible] so called [illegible] but a doubtful certainty only a partial remedy [illegible] party [illegible] political [illegible] party in a Presidential election [illegible] for a commission [illegible] but integrity must be added [illegible] the determination the action of the party must rise to a severe and unqualified demand for purification in all the offices and in all the practices of the Government service. We must not be behind Germany or France or Great Britain in conduct which during the year a whole empire has been in motion over a single instance of a cessation of undue personal gain from a public trust. Our necessity is greater than theirs for the life of a republican government is in its administration according to virtue. The country will scarcely be satisfied by conventional resolutions—things which have been and must be. The people of the country the Republicans of the country will receive the resolutions as they go forth from one convention after another with something like the poet's greeting:

> 'Tis well said again
> And 'tis a kind of good deed to say well
> And yet words are no deeds.

Let us rather inaugurate an era of conduct and action and of persistent insistence for official singleness and purity of every man connected with the Government, high or low as far as he can be followed. The people will enforce the demand and if they cannot find a way open they will make one. Fortunate the Republican party, which is now responsible for the government of this country if it shall appreciate the situation. Felicitous the lot of the President if he shall make the order sound through every department and over every head that sleeps upon one of his commissions. Then he will be stronger than before. So the people of Great Britain after years of corruption under Walpole not so much his fault as the fault of his time rallied in a spirit of personal devotion to the upright Chatham whose exaltation in the hearts of Englishmen and in the judgment of history has rested on the belief that he was above all his compeers of that age the representative Premier of honor and honesty in the public service. May our President win a fame as stainless.

A LOVE LETTER.—The Detroit Free Press has come upon a colored man living in that city who having long admired a colored widow living in the next block above but being afraid to reveal his passion went to a white man and asked him to write the lady a letter asking her hand in marriage. The friend wrote telling the woman in a few brief lines that the size of her feet was the talk of the neighborhood and asking her if she couldn't pare them down a little. The name of the colored man was signed and he was to call on her for an answer. Subsequently the writer of the letter met the negro limping along the street and asked him what the widow said. The man showed him a bloodshot eye a scratched nose a lame leg and a spot on the scalp where a handful of wool had been violently jerked out and the answer in a solemn tone: "She didn't say nuffin, an' I didn't stay dar morn a minute."

Mrs B A Chamberlain will prove the correctness of her teachings at Mr Davis house corner of Fourth and Salmon streets. She will diagnose disease treat the sick give tests privately and holds circles Monday and Friday nights commencing at 7½ o'clock.

Emil, Lowenstein & Co. recently burned out by the great fire have removed their stock of Carpets Curtains Coverings etc to No 87 FRONT STREET between Washington and Alder where they can be found selling off the entire Stock AT COST in order to start soon in new quarters with an Entire New Stock. All persons indebted to them are requested to call at their temporary place of business and settle up.

The political cauldron is boiling but amid the excitement attending the present canvass our merchants are laying in large stocks of fall and winter goods. Among the number we observed yesterday Messrs BECK & WALDMAN opening several cases of men and boys clothing. The new hat for boys is nobby. They keep them as well as other goods for youths. Be sure and call to day.

Base ball is undoubtedly good exercise and capital amusement but it oft in occasions banged eyes broken skins and blistered hands. We can tell you that in all such cases if Johnson's Anodyne Liniment is resorted to it will reduce the swelling and stop the pain.

We would not recommend the frequent or constant use of any medicine. It is important to take even a good article judiciously. Parsons' Purgative Pills are safe prompt and reliable as a laxative or cathartic.

A FAMILY VOLUME would not contain the mass of testimony which has accumulated in favor of Dr WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY as a safe efficient and reliable remedy in curing coughs colds and pulmonary disease. Many of the cures are truly wonderful.

A DOWN TOWN MERCHANT recently sued his druggist for attempt to defraud. He was suffering from inflamed kidneys and asked for Dr Helmbold's Buchu. The druggist gave him another kind upon which the profit was greater. Instead of relieving the patient as the genuine preparation had always done the imitation compound aggravated the disease and a long and distressing illness followed. The court after full hearing gave judgment for the plaintiff with costs. MORAL: buy only the genuine.

FOR COUGHS AND THROAT DISORDERS use BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES having proved their efficiency by a test of many years.

A Good Thing Daily Appreciated

No beneficial revolution ever goes backward and this maxim is as invariable in medicine as in politics. The advent of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters twenty years ago produced a revolution in the treatment of a large class of ailments and [illegible] has ever since been in the full tide of successful experiment. If [illegible] the proprietors of the celebrated vegetable specific to fortune it has also borne thousands of human beings who were languishing under the effect of disease weak and hopeless out of the depths of despondency into the paradise of health and cheerfulness. It is no exaggeration to say that the vigor the regularity of habit of body the good appetite and perfect digestion acquired under the operation of this [illegible] the blessings of renewed health [illegible]

COLEMAN'S

Dr J S Coleman's Compound of Eucalyptus is a preparation combining all the valuable medical qualities of the Eucalyptus which is cultivated in nearly every California garden for [illegible] become the household remedy for all diseases of the KIDNEYS, BLADDER and URINARY ORGANS, and SEMINAL WEAKNESS. It seems to have a direct affinity for the GENITO-URINARY ORGANS and their surroundings and cures them by its alterative healing and balsamic properties more [illegible] than any other known remedy.

It is an invaluable remedy for all diseases of the mucous and serous membranes, such as BRONCHITIS, HACKING COUGH, NAUSEA DURING PREGNANCY, DYSPEPSIA, LEUCORRHEA etc.

This preparation is the result of Dr Coleman's experiments with the medicinal properties of the tree in the U S Marine Hospital in San Francisco in 1871 and 1872, where he had unusual facilities for testing the various methods of preparing the remedy and its uses. It can be relied upon as certain to give the promised results and hundreds of testimonials of its efficacy can be seen at his office 405 Kearney st, San Francisco.

COLEMAN'S DOUBLE EXTRACT OF EUCALYPTUS is a powerful yet harmless febrifuge and is a special preparation for the treatment of the malarious fevers of our interior valleys and is warranted to cure any case of FEVER AND AGUE treated with it according to directions while the baneful results of the usual Quinine and arsenical remedies of those diseases are entirely avoided.

FOR PHYSICIANS Coleman's Fluid Extract of Eucalyptus in 1 lb bottles.

EUCALYPTUS Beware of imitations and take none but COLEMAN'S. For sale everywhere and by HODGE, CALEF & CO Wholesale Druggists, Portland. Sole Agents for Oregon.

OLDEST MAN IN THE WORLD

A YARN WHICH SEEMS TO [illegible] THAT THESE LONGEVITY STORIES ARE BEIN[G] RUN INTO THE GROUND

We copied recently a sketch of Fortune Snow a colored man near Louisville Ky who is said to be one hundred and twenty four years old, and was styled "the oldest man in America. The Sterling (Ky) Sentinel now prints the following account of another colored man of that State who may with safety be called the oldest man in the world Perhaps the end is not yet

"Sam Bowles who lives near the foot of that wonder of nature Carrington's Rock, one of the attractions of that charming resort of summer, the Olympian Springs in Bath county is the oldest darkey in the country Sam is so old that the clock in his rude cabin long ago [illegible] ticking off the hours old Father Time having given up in disgust the job of numbering the hours, days, weeks, months and years that stretch out that old nigger's life a long ways back toward the dying hour of the late Mr Methuselah, who was said to have been a spring chicken when he handed in his checks Sam claims to have been the cook on the vessel that brought Christopher Columbus over He doesn't know his exact age at the time but thinks he was upward of forty He was born in Africa, and was presented to Queen Isabella by a Moorish prince who courted her [illegible].

He is one of the most remarkable specimens of humanity in existence. He does not re[member] how long he has been blind, but distinctly recollects that the last sight his eyes [illegible] was that [illegible] warrior, Ponce de [Leon] [illegible] an Indian princess behind an [illegible] of the stone fort that eminent military [illegible] erected at San Augustine, Fla., and [which] still stands as a proof of the correctness of the old darkey's memory His blindness was brought about by his being stung in the [illegible] by a [illegible] or a buffalo, he don't know which, as he was asleep He [lost] his last tooth one hundred and fifty years [ago] and owing to chronic rheumatism in the [illegible] he has been compelled to subsist by [illegible] his victuals

[illegible] other, old Sam Bowles is a curiosity, and we have no doubt of the truth of his [illegible], for he proved it to us on the spot. 'Why, [illegible]' said he, 'do you see dat dornick out [illegible] Barrington rock We assured [him] that we saw it very plainly 'Well' said [he], '[illegible] dat dornick when it was no big[ger] [illegible] a warnit (walnut) de day I fust settled [illegible] an' you may know dat's been no little [illegible]' [illegible] and came to the [illegible] he is [illegible] older than he [illegible] to be, for, though no geologist, and [illegible] having tended a crop of rocks, we are [illegible] that it took substantial old Carrington [illegible] years to reach his present lim[its]. When we suggested that [illegible] mariner, Admiral Noah, [illegible] he cooked, he emphatically insisted [that it] was Columbus, whom he maintains, [illegible] for a minute than Noah was [illegible] Not being posted in [illegible], we gave it to the old darkey's [illegible] of things pertaining to the [illegible] his life has been prolonged by [the use] of the Olympian waters, the only [illegible], a barrel of which Mr Gill [illegible] over to his cabin regularly every [illegible] about a hundred years."

[illegible] FILLED WITH DECAYING HUMAN [illegible]

[illegible] Inquirer, Aug 27] [illegible] being notified [illegible] of the [illegible] Safal[illegible] University of Pennsylvania, and [illegible] given the [illegible] with a view of [illegible] any [illegible] to [illegible] there [illegible] of the [illegible] to perform the unpleasant duty, [illegible] by [illegible] Officer Al[illegible] of the Mayor's police, and the [illegible] to make a tour through the [illegible] the build[ing].

[illegible] way [illegible] into the cellars [illegible] of the building a large box [illegible] there was a grave [illegible] to discover whether a body [illegible] to it with [illegible] to reveal the fact that a body [illegible] but when the crust on [illegible] and the mixture stirred [illegible] that made the inspecting [illegible] their investigations [illegible] from the vicinity of [illegible] that were [illegible] was inspected but, with the ex[ception] of the frequency of the sights of [illegible] in large and small piles, nothing [illegible] of the Inspec[tor] [illegible] of the cellar was [illegible] two compart[ments] [illegible] of which were six deep vaults, [illegible] filled brimful with hu[man] [illegible] regarding the depth of these [illegible] difference in statement. [illegible] stated that he had been in[formed] that they each average sixty [illegible] Officer Stanbrook said that Mr. [illegible] the University, informed him that [they] are [illegible] nearly 100 feet deep Be [that as] it may, they are all full but one From [illegible] the lid was removed and a stifling [illegible] forth from the opening With [illegible] the light carried [illegible] back was cast into the ghastly [illegible] body resting on the [illegible] mass of flesh, bones, etc., [illegible] the pit was well nigh filled A [illegible] was tied to the lamp, which was lowered [into] the pit, and was as often ex[tinguished] by the foul air, shortly after getting [into] the [illegible] of the well

[After] leaving this portion of the premises, [illegible] a tour through the build[ing] [illegible] although the olfactory nerves [illegible], their eyes were not so fortu[nate] [illegible] step taken the specta[cle] [illegible] in larger or smaller [illegible] met the eye. Skulls, trunks, [illegible] and feet were scattered about [illegible] profusion, and here and there [illegible] large cylindrical tin vessels, [illegible] proved to be full of [illegible] of human beings which seem [illegible] about throughout the structure, [illegible] roof to the cellar In an apart[ment] [illegible] floor was found the lower [illegible] skeleton, with much of the [illegible], etc, still attached

[illegible] It is to be presumed that upon the [illegible] Reade, which will be made [illegible] measures will be taken by the [Board] of Health to have this fearful accumu[lation] [removed], but it is very likely that they will find the execution of a contract for the [illegible] a work of difficulty It is said that [illegible] years ago, when the authorities of the University made a contract with a man to [clean] out one of the pits, the contractor was [paid] $1,000 for the job, and found it almost im[possible] to keep men at work until the job [was] completed, even by paying nearly $400 [more] than he received If this be true and [any] one who caught a sickening whiff of the [illegible] arising from the opened pit yesterday it [is] not [illegible] improbable it is likely that it will be a long while, and large sums of money will [have] to be expended, before the shocking [illegible] task shall have been completed.

Another nice question arises here and that is, who should or will stand the expense? The University of Pennsylvania has sold the premises, pits and all, and even if the property is decided to pay for the work, its sale would not cover the cost of emptying one pit unless it brought more than at the last sale However the pits must be emptied of their contents and the enigma as to who shall liquidate the expense will no doubt be solved in due time

Following is from New York Sept 17th General Newton yesterday afternoon fired nitro-glycerine in the rocks of Hast river The report shook the lower part of the city Eleven hundred pounds equal in power to 10,000 pounds of gunpowder had been deposited in the drill holes and was fired by an electric battery. It blew into the air a volume of water and a large amount of rocks and bowlders which resembled the eruption of a volcano The water towered up in the shape of a cone and fell in spray On receding there was a heavy swell, and the waves dashed against the anchored vessel as in a storm at sea After the explosion the boatmen on the river picked up a large number of fish and two dead [illegible]

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

[illegible]

MONDAY Evening September 22, 1873.

Gold in New York to-day, 112.

Portland Legal Tender rates, 87½ buying 88½ selling

Gold bars are quotable at 72a750 fine

Exchange on San Francisco ½ of 1 per cent discount.

Wheat in Liverpool—Average California 12s 11d [illegible] Club 14s [illegible]

The condition of the local finances is [illegible] closer and the lack [illegible] of a [illegible] capital is [illegible] felt than it was two weeks or ten days ago Hence discounts are great [illegible] which they can't [illegible] by [illegible] This result some have attributed to the reports of so many financial disasters at the East but we find a cause much more direct and nearer home in the unusual flow of money from this port to the interior [illegible]

Much comment [illegible] in business circles here concerning the [illegible] of the Eastern cities and the [illegible] at are looking at the [illegible] that the commercial interest of the whole country must suffer in great degree except it [illegible] upon that important enterprise the Northern Pacific Railroad the shock will not in [illegible] here to any disastrous extent. The New York Chronicle of Sept 6th contains [an] [illegible] item in which the writer [illegible] the present condition of affairs thus Whether or not the defalcations [illegible] and [illegible] swindles which are perpetually [illegible] up in some unexpected quarter really are as [illegible] the premonitions of some great disaster such as the panics of 1857 or 1867 we cannot tell What is certain is that no notable part of the existing activity in money appears to have originated in this cause, and the chief reason for the rise in the rate of interest is the depletion of the bank deposits before the usual time when such a drain is commonly developed

Wheat—Flour—Tonnage.

The Willamette Farmer of the 20th inst has the following, received we suppose by telegraph at Salem

Yesterday Friedlander made a corner in Oregon in San Francisco chartering all the Simpson line of packets, fourteen in number in the Oregon trade, and advancing freights from $4 to $5 per ton Last year he is said to have cleared two million by his profits on charters all of which come out of the pockets of California and Oregon producers. He has attempted to repeat the operation this year and owing to the short crops in California he has difficulty in securing freight for the vessels he has on his hands and this has probably forced him to try and secure the Oregon crop and to make a sure thing of it, he has monopolized the sailing fleet that does our carrying trade Last week his agents purchased 800,000 bushels of wheat up the valley and he probably will try to force all the Oregon surplus to pay him heavy toll

Kinney & Sons have already purchased 300,000 bushels of wheat, 100,000 from wagons and 200,000 elsewhere, which is more than the entire purchase made by them last year In view of the Friedlander 'corner' alluded to above, Marshall Kinney, of San Francisco, yesterday closed contracts for all the products of the mill for the rest of 1873 amounting in all to near 2,000 tons of flour

We learn that freights have advanced $1 per ton on the steamers between this port and San Francisco on flour and grain

In the meantime our local market is not particularly affected by these changes, to-day having been a very quiet one in all respects The demand for funds of late has been of such extent as to bring about an actual scarcity of available capital to conduct the business in this cereal which would doubtless be going on were financial affairs in another condition Besides, vessels fully due some days ago have not yet put in an appearance and exporters warehouses being full they are nothing loth to accept the [illegible] and enjoy a few days or weeks rest as the case may be until their ships arrive and they can unload the stocks of grain on hand By that time it is hoped that some of the clouds will have cleared away and some of the perplexing questions now affecting the commercial world be permanently settled

The quotations furnished to-day range from $1 80 at $1 [illegible] [illegible], with an evident backwardness on the part of both buyers and sellers The few days which succeed a [illegible] are always dull in the Oregon wheat market, as no one at first thought is apt to sell at the reduced price. [illegible], it is apparent that most of those who were obliged by circumstances to sell, have wisely taken advantage of the late rise, and moved at least a large portion of their surplus. The money paid out so far this season will enable farmers to meet their actual necessities for coin, and should offers hereafter not be satisfactory, they can carry over much of all that they now hold

Wool.

Walter Brown & Son, of New York, under date of [illegible] 10th, write as follows

'The wool market, for the past thirty days, has been characterized by a steady demand from consumers with values on all grades of the staple well maintained.

'As is customary when the assortment is ample the inquiry has been for choice wools and during the month the supply of such lots has been considerably reduced. The natural result of such depletion in the stock of desirable fleeces, is a gradual hardening in values, and we have now to note a rise of about 3 per cent since our last issue This upward tendency is also somewhat due to heavy purchases of foreign wools made in the American markets for European account, which has in a great measure relieved the pressure on this description besides encouraging an advance on domestic and will materially assist importers in working off their purchases without loss

'The fall trade in woolen goods opened with considerable animation, and with most of the commission houses the transactions are much in excess of those of last year, in fact, in several instances we hear of sales ahead, which it will employ the mills for some months to consummate. This is quite encouraging to manufacturers, and they having confidence both in the continuance of a good trade in their own productions, and in firm prices for the raw material, have, during the past few weeks been free purchasers of such wools as they are likely to require for the next two or three months.

For combing and delaine grades there has been an active demand, with steadily improving values. The manufacture of these wools is rapidly increasing in this country and such of our domestic fleeces as can be combed are eagerly sought after to mix with the imported article and thereby cheapen the stock required It is a matter of regret that the American manufacturers of worsted goods should be obliged to go abroad for the bulk of their supplies but this must necessarily be the case until our farmers see their own benefit in increasing the production of the full blooded Leicester and Cotswold breed of sheep

The present condition of the wool and woolen interests considering the apparent small available supplies of wool, would indicate a reasonable prospect of further advance in values, and it is evident that many of the speculative transactions which have occurred within the month are based on this supposition On the other hand the approaching transfer of the crops from the West to the East will undoubtedly create a large monetary drain on the seaboard markets during the remainder of the year with the consequent high rates of interest which almost invariably have a depressing effect on the general mercantile community It is not at all probable that money will command such exorbitant rates as a year ago but it is a point to be borne in mind by wool operators who look for their profit in a prospective future rise in prices but there is probably no other staple which is so easily depreciated in value by a financial stringency

SMALL POX.

DOCTOR BORZEAU'S SMALL POX REMEDY, SAMUEL CORWIN, Proprietor, can be procured at all the Drug Stores in this city at the present time As this medicine is proving an inestimable boon to those afflicted with that disease no person should neglect the present opportunity of providing themselves with this valuable antidote

Price ONE DOLLAR per bottle.

Portland, Oregon, Aug 22, 1873.

MR. SAMUEL CORWIN—Sir In justice to yourself and for the benefit of those who may be afflicted with the small pox I am induced to give publicity to the following facts About the 20th of July 1873 I became very unwell, having severe pain in my head back and limbs which continued to increase in severity for three or four days, a very high fever set in, and I began to break out on my face neck and body with what proved to be small pox I procured of Dr Freeland of the Central Drug Store a bottle of your small pox remedy Notwithstanding the severity of the attack I administered the medicine myself not in accordance with accompanying directions, but in about double doses In three days all pain and fever disappeared My recovery was extremely rapid notwithstanding frequent exposures by moving about from place to place while in a high fever which is generally considered fatal in that disease, and it is my firm conviction that under the ordinary treatment for that disease I would not be living to-day I took of the medicine about two and a half bottles, more perhaps than was necessary not wishing to discontinue until a thorough cure was effected.

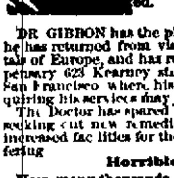
NEW REMEDIES! NEW REMEDIES!

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,



623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms Seminal Weakness Impotency etc Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary 623 Kearney street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering

Horrible Di[sease].

How many thousands of persons both male and female are there who are suffering out a [illegible] existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system? Look at the pallid emaciated and disfigured faces and the broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until [death] closes the scene Let parents, guardians [illegible] tend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible, life-destroying maladies and that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. [illegible] immediately to DR. GIBBON, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for [illegible] and who is certain to cure the most inveterate [illegible] without mercury or any injurious drugs It is important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who [illegible] all cities, publishing their skill in curing all [illegible] in a few days, imposing upon the public by [using] the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make inquiry or you may fall into the hands of charlatans

Se[min]al Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self [illegible] This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence [illegible] practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent producing with unerring [certain]ty, the following train of morbid symptoms [unless] combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: [illegible] low countenance dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head ringing in the ears noise like the [rustling] of leaves and rattling of chariots [illegible] the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused [illegible] blunted intellect, loss of confidence, [illegible] approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory hectic flushes pimples and [illegible] tions about the face, furred tongue [illegible] coughs consumption, night sweats [illegible] frequent insanity If relief be not obtained apply immediately, either in person or by letter have a cure effected by his new and [illegible] of treating this disease, which never fails of [effect]ing a quick and radical cure. Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will [prove sat]isfactorily to him that he was cured of this [com]plaint by either of the San Francisco q[uacks]

Ma[rried] M[en],

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are [labor]ing under any of these fearful maladies, should [not] forget the sacred responsibility [illegible] nor delay to obtain immediate relief

DR. GIBBON is [illegible], and will give to [every] patient a written [illegible] binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or [illegible] charge.

Cured at H[ome].

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating symptoms, length of time the disease has [illegible] and have medicines promptly forwarded [illegible] and carefully, to any part of the [illegible] with full and plain directions By [illegible] Ten Dollars coin, in registered letter through the [illegible] or through Wells, Fargo & Co, a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union All communications strictly [confidential]

Caution to the U[nfortunate]

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus certificates [illegible] the unwary Some of the self-styled doctors, [illegible] names are to be found in the daily and [illegible] newspapers of San Francisco and other [illegible] tradesmen and became too lazy to work at [their] trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, [illegible] carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. The [only] way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it [will] cost you nothing, and may save you many [dollars] for as advertising physicians in eight [illegible] ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting [illegible] titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases than he [illegible] to cure

Address DR. J F GIBBON, 623 Kearney [street] [cor]ner Commercial San Francisco Post-office Box [1957] REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1957 ON THE LETTER Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the [illegible] OREGONIAN
